

THE Big 3

EPISODE: 193

TITLE: 12 Small Ways You Can Improve Your City

As God's kids and together as his family here on Earth, we get to serve others as an expression of our identity in Christ. And sometimes, the smallest acts of service can have the biggest impact!

Here are 3 things to believe and consider about serving in your city...

1. Opportunities to live as a blessing in your city and neighborhood are endless! Time is not the issue; availability and intention are the keys. Sometimes the smallest things we do for others can have the biggest impact. It can be too easy to see a need or possible cool opportunity and assume someone else will do something about it. Look in the mirror... it's your turn. The advocate is YOU.
2. Giving our time, talents, and resources to improve the lives of others displays the heart of Jesus in our community. Whether setting up fun opportunities for relationship building, restoring broken things, or creating new possibilities for people to thrive, the Good News of the Kingdom of God is put front and center. Remember, not every "gospel presentation" has a little green book attached!
3. Pick a simple project that interests you and get started this weekend! Don't put it off or wait until you organize the perfect people and plan. Like a lot of things in life, when we bless others and give ourselves away, it is often us that receives the biggest blessing... We feel God's love and provision flowing through us to others. How cool is that?!
