

THE Big 3

EPISODE: 294

TITLE: How to Start Shifting Your Church Outward

The way we gather as the Church has forever changed during the COVID-19 pandemic. But the change in our gathering patterns may be a blessing in disguise! Here are three key things to believe and consider about starting to shift the church outward...

1. Your family is the first place to begin when starting new spiritual rhythms. Begin at the beginning in your own lives. Trying to organize others into a series of activities, events, or rhythms that you and those closest to you are not already living will produce unnecessary stress and set you up for failure. This is especially important for pastors and leaders. Live as a family worth joining and imitating, and start making space in your schedule (and hearts) for others to join you.
2. God loves you just where you're at, but our Father did not send his son Jesus just to get us into heaven; he came that we might have a full life, an adventure with him of being his disciples and making more disciples... starting first with our own kids, our own church, and then moving outwards toward others. This is the life that God created us for and Jesus died to give us! Will you embrace it?
3. Get the training and encouragement you need to get started and stay on mission! A life of spiritual freedom and relational peace awaits you. It is far too easy to hear a talk like this and give mental assent to things... nodding in agreement with good intentions but never really get started with new, meaningful practices.

If you are interested in being coached by Caesar and his wife Tina in a lifestyle of discipleship and mission, new cohorts are starting soon... Start experiencing greater spiritual freedom and relational peace today!
