

EPISODE: 497

TITLE: Are Missional Communities Still a Thing?

You can get the equipping you need to break old patterns and lead others on mission. Your family, neighbors and your church will thank you!

Here are three key things to remember about being missional:

1. Know that a true missional community is the primary organizing structure of the church. These communities were called an oikos in scripture, which is the Greek word for the church. While it is awesome that we can also have larger, gathered celebrations for loads of Christians, a lifestyle of discipleship with a close group of family and friends was always God's 'Plan A' for the church.
2. Believe that living life on mission (making disciples in all of life) starts with YOU. If you are a leader, pastor or elder in your church, your highest calling and honor is to give your life to a community that is making disciples. This is a lifestyle and not a series of events. This will take every part of your life. This is how Jesus said we would find true life!
3. Get the equipping you need to break old patterns and lead others on mission. If you've never been discipled in a way where the gospel was applied and transformed every area of your everyday life, you will need to humble yourself and start slow.

Get the Discipleship As a Lifestyle Workshop on-demand training

Also: If you are interested in being coached by Caesar and his wife Tina in a lifestyle of discipleship and mission, we'd love to tell you more about it... Start experiencing greater spiritual freedom and relational peace today!

More info and your first step >> everydaydisciple.com/coaching

Thanks for listening... we'll see you in the next episode!

~Caesar