

EPISODE: 581

TITLE: Seeing God Fully Masculine, Feminine, and Beyond

How does embracing the feminine aspects of God's nature change the way you view God? How might your prayers change? How will you love God and others more fully?

Here are three key things to believe and consider:

Head...heart...hands...

1. God created humans both male and female so that together we would best reflect his glory—what God is truly like in this world. Embrace the things that are true and beautiful in how God has wonderfully made you! Women—you are an amazing, daily reflection of who God is!
2. Ultimate respect and admiration for each other comes from loving who God is. What we believe about God is the most important thing we will ever believe about ourselves and everyone else. Respect for yourself and others is an act of worship (worth-ship) to God.
3. As you read scripture, pray and think about God, start to notice how God consistently displays both feminine and masculine virtues as part of his nature. God is not the angry father of the Old Testament while his son Jesus is the nice guy in the New Testament and the Spirit is his sidekick. God reveals the magnitude of his being and worth as both male and female.

Our good, right and perfect God, who presents himself (herself...if you will) above gender created and embraces both sexes. When we start to see and believe this, we can start to address the myriad issues of equality between the sexes from a biblical perspective and worldview... In the church, in the workplace, around the world.
