TITLE: What Gospel Fluency Sounds Like

Problems with relationships, evangelism and discipleship—and every sin in our lives—all stem from having a gospel that is too small. Fortunately, this can change as we come to understand a much bigger gospel. Here's 3 things to remember...

1. The gospel is good news for every area of your life. Not just your afterlife. Christianity is not just about avoiding hell and going to heaven and in the meantime it's about sin management and behaviour modification.
2. God now sees you as his dearly loved son or daughter. You don't have to perform or act a certain way to earn his love. You have it because of what Jesus has done for you. Do you believe what God says is true of you?
3. The pressure is off! When you grow in gospel fluency—the ability to speak, live and enjoy the gospel in every area of life—you'll be set free from so much unnecessary baggage. You'll no longer fear being rejected by others as you begin to apply the truth of the gospel instead of “handing out advice”.

When you have a bigger gospel you'll develop the confidence and grace to speak the truth in love—first to yourself—and then with others in a way that is truly good news. Evangelism will no longer be a weird or stressful sales pitch and your discipleship with others will be supercharged with good news.
